

Photo release

9 January 2009

Interesting New “Globe Animation 2” Environmental Science VCDs

Now Available for The Public Free of Charge

After the success of the “Globe Animation 1” VCDs, the learning aid about surrounding natural science study for primary students, which generated high demand from schools and interested persons nationwide, the Institute for the Promotion of Teaching Science and Technology (IPST) and Banpu Public Company Limited, have produced “Globe Animation 2” VCDs including four stories namely, “Clouds Have Names”, “Is It Hotter And Hotter?”, “Let’s Make a Map” and “Animal Lands”. The “Globe Animation 2” VCDs will be used as the environmental science material for needy elementary schools and the Border Patrol Police schools nationwide.

The “Globe Animation 2” VCDs are now available for the public upon request with free of charge. Parents and interested individuals can call for free copies at tel. 02 694 6646, Monday - Friday, 09.00 – 16.00 hrs. from now on.

Additional information:

IPST and Banpu have produced learning materials on surrounding natural science in the form of animated VCDs in Thai language narration with English subtitle and bi-lingual storybooks (Thai-English). There are 7 stories divided into 2 series. Series 1 has 3 stories including “The Soil Explorers”, “Shh! The Trees Are Sleeping” and “It’s A Rainy, Rainy Day”. All were produced for approximately 20,000 needy elementary schools under the Office of the Basic Education Commission and the Border Patrol Police schools while another than 4,000 VCDs were distributed to interested persons nationwide with free of charge in last year.

The Series 2 comprises “Clouds Have Names”, “Is It Hotter and Hotter?”, “Let’s Make A Map” and “Animal Lands” are now being delivered to the same schools and are also available for the interested public free of charge.

For media request, please contact:

Sumana Wattana

Banpu Public Company Limited

Tel 02 694 6869 / 081 902 4252